

The Arizona Republican.

VOL. III.

PHOENIX, ARIZONA, SUNDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 6, 1892.

NO. 147.

ALL IN LINE.

The Indications on the Eve of Battle.

Coconino's Little Giant's Chances Are Very Bright.

AND HE WILL WIN.

It Looks Like a Republican Tidal Wave All Around.

Cluff Making a Splendid Run— Figures on County Tickets.

The following specials are in response to a query sent out by THE REPUBLICAN: "What is the political situation in your county with regard to the delegate to congress, councilman-at-large and legislative ticket?" These queries were sent to responsible and prominent Republicans in various precincts in each county.

Mohave County.
KINGMAN, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Political conditions here some what changed from two years ago owing to influx of mining men. As nearly all our mines are silver, the silver sentiment is pre-eminent. Legislative ticket will probably be split. Foster S. Denais Democratic nominee for council will probably be elected, and Anson H. Smith, independent silver candidate to the assembly. Both Cluff and Stewart will carry the county by small majorities. Smith's anti-silver record was a great disappointment to mining men here. This with Stewart's personal popularity will give him from 60 to 80 majority, which is large.

Gila County.
GLOVE, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] The sudden rise of the People's party here has completely upset political calculations. Edwards, Democratic candidate for council has no earthly show, and the contest will be between Ben Pascoe Peoples nominee and Hon. Wm. M. Griffith, Republican candidate. Griffith is personally very popular and the Republicans are betting on his election by a seat majority. Wentworth, Republican nominee for assembly, has the inside track. Stewart and Cluff will both poll a large percentage of the Peoples vote. Smith when here was not able to explain his attitude on the gold-silver proposition satisfactorily. His position in favor of Yuma convict labor also antagonizes the union labor vote. I think it safe to estimate Stewart's majority at 50 in Gila county and Cluff at least 30. Payson and the Yuma country will both give Stewart and Cluff majorities.

Yavapai County.
PRESCOTT, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] In reply to your inquiry a conservative view of the situation indicates that Stewart will carry this county by 225 votes. This is based on good majorities in Hillside, Jerome, Big Bug, the railroad precincts, Prescott and smaller camps. Cluff made a most favorable impression and will poll the full party vote.

The Republicans hope to carry at least two out of three of the assemblymen, and Hon. W. S. Head for the council. Aside from the vigorous fight being made for Stewart and Cluff the principal contest is over the sheriff's office. Akers is making a gallant fight, but the outcome will be too close to prognosticate. Hon. W. C. Bashford thinks Stewart will have a handsome majority in the county.

FROM ANOTHER QUARTER.
SAN FERNANDO, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] As regards the railroad vote, it is solid for Stewart all along the line of the Atlantic and Pacific, and the Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix. On the legislative and county ticket it is divided. Cannot say just how.

Graham County.
SOLONVILLE, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] If the election was held today Cluff would carry the county by 100 majority. Stewart would be, in my judgment, about 150 behind, although the more enthusiastic Republicans claim Graham will be a stand off. The Morrison precinct of Pima, which cast but one vote against Smith four years ago, will give Stewart a majority vote. At Payson, Safford and Thatcher the Morrisons are going to give Stewart a handsome endorsement. San Jose will probably give a majority the other way, as they are all Alabama Democrats. Solonville, Clifton and Morenci, the largest polling places, will all give Stewart a majority. The present outlook is in favor of the entire People's county and legislative ticket going through.

SOLDIERS RIGHT.
FT. GRANT, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Fts. Grant and Thomas are O. K. for Stewart and Cluff without fail.
A. E. C.

CLIFTON AND MORENCI.
CLIFTON, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Hon. W. G. Stewart and Geo. Cluff are both certain of good majorities in both this place and Morenci. Stewart made a splendid impression here and his ideas suit us. Regarding his probable vote in the county I am not prepared to make an estimate, not being familiar with the situation in the Gila valley. Shannon, Democratic nominee for council will poll a good vote here as it is his home. He will however lose considerable on account of a local fight.

Pima County.
TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Politics are badly mixed up in Pima. Several outside features have been grafted into the campaign. These will effect both the county and legislative tickets, but will not have any bearing on the delegate or councilman-at-large. A fair estimate gives Stewart 175 majority in the county, with a possible increase of fifty votes depending upon the ballots of independent Democrats. The railroad boys are almost solidly for Stewart and Cluff.

If the Republicans pull together the legislative ticket will be elected without doubt.

NOGALES AND HARSHAW.
NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Nogales and Southern Pima will give Stewart and Cluff a rousing majority. Smith's attitude on the land grants has knocked his old time popularity into a cocked-hat. I venture the prediction that not ten bona fide residents of alleged land grants will vote for Mark Smith. Harshaw will also go almost solidly for Stewart through the influence of the Harshaw Silver club. The people down here are pretty much in the dark on the legislative ticket, although the Republican nominees will poll more than their party strength. Chenoweth and Grant will carry everything in sight about Nogales.

Cochise County.
TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] This being Mark Smith's home it is generally believed outside that he will have a big majority. The facts are that things look extremely blue for him. Heretofore he has delivered only one speech in this county, but this time he makes five. Tombstone will go Republican by a small majority. If Stewart makes the showing on the railroad and at Bisbee that we confidently predict Cochise will give him a majority of from fifteen to forty. The entire legislative ticket will be elected, and a greater part of the county ticket. The most sanguine figures for Smith will not give him his home county by more than seventy-five votes.

Cluff will beat Norris by 150 votes. There is a large Mormon vote in the county which will go solid for him.

Yuma County.
YUMA, Ariz., Nov. 5.—The heavy fight in this county is between John W. Dorrington and M. H. Nugent for the council. Dorrington's chances are good and the general opinion is that he will pull through in good shape. Yuma county will cast a majority of from fifty to seventy-five for Stewart, with chances of an increase of fifty more depending on the river precincts. The first calculation, however, is a surety. Both Stewart and Cluff will go out of the county with good majorities. Bloomer, Republican candidate for assembly, will beat Field without a doubt.

Apache County.
HOLBROOKE, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Apache county can be depended upon to give Stewart 25 majority over Smith. This is a reversal from nearly 300 for Smith two years ago. The entire Mormon vote here has flocked on Smith and the sheep men are against him to a man. There never has been such a political upheaval in the county. Cluff will run slightly ahead of Stewart in Mormon districts though not much as Stewart will carry that vote nearly solid. J. L. Hubbard of this place will unquestionably be elected to the council over John Hunt Democratic candidate. Both Bushman and Freeman, Republican nominees for the assembly, are confident of election. F. W. Nelson Republican candidate for recorder will go in by a big majority.

Coconino County.
FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Owing to the candidacy of Stewart the Republicans confidently predict the election of the entire legislative and county ticket. Stewart himself will poll an immense vote, which will be

(Concluded on eighth page.)

AT SNOWFLAKE.

Stewart is Campaigning in Apache.

Addresses a Big Crowd at Springerville.

The Little Giant Talks on Honest Money.

He Shows the Partidly of the Democratic Party Towards the Mormons.

HOLBROOKE, Ariz., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Stewart spoke at Springerville last night to an enthusiastic audience. He was somewhat hampered by a severe cold contracted from riding at night from St. Johns to Springerville. He was able, however, to keep the meeting in an enthusiastic uproar for an hour and three-quarters, after which he was followed in a few remarks by the president of the Mormon Stake there.

Mr. Stewart paid some attention to general issues. On the subject of currency he said: "The people want good money for the rich and poor alike. They want appropriations sufficient to meet the wants of the people, carry on all proper and needed improvements, to keep an army and navy sufficient to protect our National honor and National interest, and also to do justice, even to liberality to the men and their families who gave life and health for the Nation's defense. They want the money, thus appropriated, honestly expended for the purposes for which appropriated. Incidentally they want a little money from the federal government if Mark hasn't let Anthony Joseph get away with it all."

The Democratic congress has pensioned a few army nurses, and established a rate below $72 per month, which will finally result in reducing the amount paid out annually to the severely injured class, and that is their pension record. In the last congress they passed the per diem bill to try and kill the great measure, full of blessings, that the Republicans enacted in spite of their opposition. They professed to favor a more extreme measure than we urged and passed, but their anxiety for the old soldiers' has had a sound sleep during this session, with their boasted two-thirds majority, and to cap the climax they cut the regular pension appropriation bill down $12,000,000 below the estimates, so that but for a Republican senate the soldiers would not get money on the pensions now allowed them.

Mr. Stewart referred to the sanctity of the ballot box.

Have they tried to protect the ballot box? Not a step have they taken in that direction. On the contrary, they fly into a rage, more than Quixotic, when the subject is mentioned. And today they are using the government money to print the election bill of the last congress, and sending it south with the false cry that a bill seeking only to save life and prevent fraud at federal elections is a "force bill."

Speaking of the increased expenses, he said: Did a Republican statute require a Democratic congress to increase salaries. By one bill they increase to the amount of $220,800 per annum. And besides this they have increased the salaries of several employees of the house. Increase of salaries is one of the crimes that they lay at Republican doors, and yet the Democrats have in the last congress, that started out with banners flying for economy, found cases that justified increasing salaries.

They can, however, point to a few vile cuts in appropriations. They have cut down the pay of a few hard-worked clerks and taken the places away from a few others. They have cut down the force in some of the auditing offices of the government to hinder and delay the adjustment of old soldiers' claims. They have severely cut the public land interests so that the home-seeker will have to wait. They have cut the health departments. They have cut the educational interests, denying free text-books to children of the poor. This cut, however, was arrested by a Republican senate. They have done all in their power to place obstructions in the pathway of the Mormon church.

Mr. Stewart nailed the statehood lie again. He characterized the assertion that he was opposed to statehood as an act of desperation on the part of certain Democrats. His entire speech was interlarded with witty expressions which kept the house convulsed with laughter. Stewart will carry Apache by a good majority.

He is speaking tonight at Snowflake, and will close the campaign Monday night at Flagstaff, where preparations have been made to turn the town upside down.

Politics and Religion do not Mix.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 5.—The Republican Congressional Committee has repudiated T. M. C. Birmingham, People's party candidate in the Fourth district, because Birmingham issued an address denouncing Terry, his Democratic opponent, for being a Roman Catholic.

STORMY NEW MEXICO

The Most Severe Wind Ever Known at Coots Peak.

DEMING, Nov. 5.—[Special.] The most severe storm in the history of Cook's Peak camp had occurred there yesterday. Buildings were unroofed, tents blown down, and much damage done by the rain, which fell in torrents. The bunk-house owned by the Teel & Poe Mining Company was blown a distance of over one hundred feet, and the falling timbers narrowly escaped doing serious damage to the general merchandise store of J. J. Quinn & Co. All surface work has been suspended for several days past, owing to the heavy rains. The damage caused by the storm will mount up in the hundreds. This morning the mountain on which the camp is situated is covered with snow to the depth of several inches, another drawback to active mining operations.

A PREHISTORIC AX.

In the Illinois River bottoms the Wonderful relic is Found.

ALTON, Ill. Nov. 5.—[Associated Press.] A dweller in the Illinois River bottoms above this city has discovered a wonderful prehistoric relic in the shape of an immense copper ax weighing eight pounds. It is covered with a thick coat of platinum, evidence of its great age, and its shape and workmanship gives proof of considerable mechanical skill in its manufacture. The implement has been obtained by Prof. Wm. McAdams, who regards it as the finest in existence and will add it to the Illinois exhibit at the World's Fair.

THE INDIAN KID

Committing Depredations in Old Mexico.

Mexican Troops Ambushed and Their Leaders Shot Down.

DEMING, N. M. Nov. 5.—[Special.] A courier reached here from Las Polomas late last night, bringing news of more Indian murders and depredations in old Mexico by "Kid" and his notorious band of renegades. As told in the columns of the Times, the band crossed into old Mexico immediately after the Morenci murders. Acting upon this information the Mexican government ordered a detail from the Fifth cavalry regiment, formerly stationed at Las Polomas, but more recently at Chihuahua, to march into the foot hills of the Sierra Madre, in the vicinity of the Mormon colonies, where the Indians were supposed to have gone. The detail was in command of Captain D. V. Dorantes and Lieutenant Garcia, and numbered fifty men. Tuesday morning after a laborious march of some days, they reached the foot hills at a point about sixty-eight miles to the southwest of Las Polomas. The young men were marching along, unsuspecting of danger, when, without warning they were attacked by the Indians in ambush. Captain Dorantes and Lieutenant Garcia, who were in advance of the troops, were both shot through the heads and killed instantly. Several others sustained slight wounds, but it is thought that the list of the dead will be confined to the two mentioned. The terrible suddenness of the attack threw the non-combatants into a short while, and their route was complete. After several of the braver ones had gotten the command together, the bodies of the dead captain and lieutenant were recovered without molestation. They were left in charge of a guard, and the others pushed forward in the hope of averting the murder of the officers. The Indians, however, after routing the troops, made good their escape into the mountains, and not a trace of them has been seen since. The bodies of Dorantes and Garcia were afterwards taken to Chihuahua for burial. Although considerably in advance of the troops at the time of the attack, and within reach of the Indians, no attempt was made to mutilate the bodies. The government officials of the City of Mexico were notified of the disaster, and have ordered over five hundred troops from different stations in the northern part of the republic. It is expected that these will be massed in the vicinity of Colonia, Pacheco and Juarez. One thing is very certain, and that is, no effort will be spared to bring the murderers to justice. "Kid" and his band have now been off the San Carlos reservation for nearly three months and during that time has done nearly a score of killings. His followers are but thirteen—an unlucky number, indeed for his many victims. It is said that the ambush was so complete, that nearly ten minutes had elapsed before the soldiers realized what had happened.

The Record Nearly Went.

STOCKTON, Nov. 5.—Gruman, a famous stallion by Electioneer reduced his record to 2:12 today. His record was 2:13½. W. Wood, the pacer, went against his record of 2:07 and would have beaten the world's mark of 2:04 but for a bad break in the last one-eighth. His quarters were 31, 30½ and 32. He went to the half in 1:02 and to the three-quarters in 1:32. He was not tired when he broke but Maben who was behind him called to the driver that he was beating the record. He will start again next week.

Cholera at St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5.—There were three deaths from cholera in this city yesterday, and four new cases of the disease.

NEW YORK SAFE.

This is Conceded From Democratic Sources.

All that the Republicans Have To Do.

Is to Get Out Their Full Voting Strength.

Cleveland's Only Chance Conceded to Be in Republican Apathy.

CINCINNATI, Ohio., Nov. 5.—[Special.] The Enquirer, which was a Hill paper to the last moment, today, under great headlines, prints an elaborate and signed special that virtually confesses that New York is going for Harrison. The object of the special is to discourage Democratic effort in Indiana and West Virginia by creating the impression that it is useless to work since the loss of New York means the loss of all.

In Ohio, and adjoining States the appearance of such specials in the Enquirer is hailed by Republicans as a sure sign of victory, and accepted by Democrats as a cold shower bath that dashes all their hopes. McBride is the author of today's special, and among other things he says:

"It is now the mutual concession that New York will poll over 1,500,000 votes. Now, when one comes to analyze and separate a political division of such a vote, which in the warmth of a canvass is only divided by a few thousands, the perplexity is made plain. To do it with caution one must use the lamps already gone before."

Democracy's Only Victories.
"It is a fact, that since 1868, in a Presidential contest, the Democrats have carried this State but three times, in 1868 by a majority of 10,000; in 1876 Tilden carried the State by 82,000; and in 1884 Grover Cleveland by 1,000. In the intervening years the Democrats have held the fort, but in a Presidential battle since 1868 they have lost every time, save the three exceptions noted."

"In this great State there are, all told, fifty-nine counties. Taking the Presidential vote of four years ago, only ten out of the number gave Democratic majorities. In two of the counties the Democratic majority aggregated only 1,000. In three of them less than 1,000 turned the scale."

"The logic of the figures goes to show that in a Presidential year New York is a Republican State if the woods are shelled. It is not a question of how Tammany may manipulate its magnificent organization in the city, but, rather, can the Republicans get out their vote? If they fail in this respect they lose; if they do not fail they win."

A Republican for President.
"While it is true that the registry in this city has shown up magnificently the index of a Democratic vote, it is, moreover, true that the rural sections also promise heavy votes."

"The Democrats are just as sanguine as the Republicans. Inspired with a magnificent State victory, won only a short year ago, it is hard for them to realize that it can now slip away. On the superficial view, having out of consideration everything but sentiment, it is hard for any one to see."

"But when it is borne in mind that Cleveland's splendid majority of 190,000, as a gubernatorial candidate, dwindled away also in one short year to 1,000, as a presidential quantity, the stagers come. When the 190,000 majority rolled up, the Republicans failed to vote. When only 1,000 majority loomed up, they were on their mettle."

"In the light which one now has I do not think the claim of 65,000 majority for Cleveland in New York county is overestimated. The chances are nine in ten that such a majority will be reached. If the majority below the Harlem line be not more than 85,000 Democratic I cannot see how the Democrats hope to win. If the indications pointed to Republican apathy I should say 'Yes.'"

"If on the night of the election the telegraph carries the news of the Democratic majority in this city and contiguous towns over 90,000, then it will be a close race as to the state."

The special then goes on to show the splendid Republican organization and harmony, and virtually says Harrison has New York.

A PECULIAR CRIME.

An Old Woman Shoots Her Best Beloved Grandson.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5.—[Associated Press.] At Kansas City, Kan., between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. Frederick Seeger, 60 years old and blind, murdered her little grandson, Frank Volckens, and then killed herself. The tragedy is a peculiarly pathetic one. The little 4 year old boy who was the victim of his grandmother's fatal bullet did not live with his parents but with his uncle who had adopted him. His grandmother loved the lad better than anything on earth. Some time ago she conceived the idea that the boy was not treated well by his uncle and she made threats that she would find a way to take him away. Yesterday afternoon as usual the little fellow went to visit his grandmother. She called him into the house and took him to her room, which was up stairs. No person saw either of them alive after that.

Missing the child his uncle went to look for him at six o'clock. He found the door of Mrs. Seeger's house locked and unable to arouse any body he became alarmed and got a policeman to break in the front door. Going upstairs to the room of the old lady an awful sight met their eyes. Stretched out upon the grandmother's bed lay the little boy, cold in death, with a ghastly bullet wound through his temple, from which the blind old woman had pushed back the hair when she fired, to make sure of her deadly aim. By the side of the boy was the body of Mrs. Seeger with a bullet through her head at exactly the same spot where she had shot the boy. Neither had moved an inch after the shots were fired.

A GHASTLY FIND.

Schoolboy Discovers the Body of a Man Dead Two Months.

MERIDEN, Conn. Nov. 5.—[Associated Press.] The body of a man who had evidently been dead two months was found by William Landry, a schoolboy, in a clump of bushes on the bank of a brook which skirts the Meridian, Waterbury and Connecticut River railroad in the western outskirts of the city. The man must have been six feet tall and of powerful build.

He was evidently about 50 years old. One conjecture was that he had fallen from the tree overhead, but the only thing to bear out this theory was a large branch of the tree resting on the bushes beside the body. Medical examiner Wilson said the man had been dead two months, that the body was that of a white man, and that he was probably a man who had wandered from the Meridian almshouse two months ago and was never found. There was nothing in the pockets that would serve to identify the unfortunate.

THE OLYMPIA.

Birth Given to Another Large Cruiser.

Scenes Attending the Launching of the New Warship at San Francisco Yesterday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—[Associated Press.] Cruiser number 6, the largest war vessel so far built by the Union Iron Works, which exceeds in size the Charleston or the San Francisco, was successfully launched today. The event is a notable one, Markham and staff, as well as all the prominent military and naval officials on the coast, being among the participants. The vessel was christened the "Olympia," after the Washington city of that name, the Pacific coast people having objected against a vessel built here being named after an Atlantic port.

The launching was effected by an automatic device that liberated the vessel when the string was cut. At the same time a bottle of champagne was broken over the bow as Miss Bella Dickie, daughter of George W. Dickie, manager of the iron works, christened the great vessel "The Olympia."

The weather was fair and the launching was witnessed by 15,000 people. The crowd of people which attended the launching exceeded any which has ever been seen in that part of the city in which the Union iron works are located since the coast defense vessel Monterey was launched at the time of President Harrison's visit. Several hours before it was time for the cruiser to slip off her ways people began to travel toward the scene, and the streets leading to the shipyard were filled with long lines of crowded street cars and hundreds of pedestrians. There were probably 20,000 people in the shipyard.

A platform decorated with national colors was built around the bow of the cruiser, and on this were representations of army and navy scenes. After a short prayer had been offered the last blocks which held the cradle in position were knocked from under and the hull began to move slowly down and the band played a national air. Great shouts and hurrahs from the crowds of people and noise from a hundred or more steam whistles commenced as soon as the cruiser made the first movement.

SCRATCHED BY A BULLET.

A Twin Lakes Miner Slightly Injured in a Fight.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Nov. 5.—[Associated Press.] A shooting affray occurred between Billy Mahoney and Mike Quinn, miners employed in the Twin Lakes district, yesterday, which resulted in Mahoney receiving a scalp wound. Both men have been drinking and revived a quarrel that had long lain dormant over a claim. Mahoney struck Quinn, who immediately pulled his gun and fired with the above result. Friends interfered and the men adjusted their difficulty without further bloodshed.

Santa Ana Races.

SANTA ANA, Cal., Nov. 5.—The station Silkwood, and the gelding, Our Dick, paced a match race here today. Silkwood won in three straight heats. Time 2:06¾, 2:11½ and 2:15.

Carlisle Failed to Register.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Senator Carlisle will not vote for Cleveland, as he failed to register. When asked about it he answered: "I forgot to register."